FESTIVITIES AT DYKE YESTERDAY

Old and Young Participate in Celebrating Labor Day.

J. F. BIRRELL SPEAKS.

Labor King of the Day — Games,
Dances and Innocent Mirth Indulged In.

When we come to the first Monday in September we know what it means. It is Labor Day, and, true to the instinct of nature where principle is paramount, the legion of loyal workmen plan an entertainment befitting the occasion. This year the scene of operations was the Dyke, and the program one of the best ever furnished. Nothing had been left undone to make the day an enjoyable one, and the committee had been working in their efforts to see that all who attended had a part in the festivities.

The Dyke is a beautiful piece of woodland, from the top of which the majestic Potomac can be viewed in its grandeur, while below the sweetly laden stream lends it perfume to those who gather around its banks, some with chicken, some with duck, some with cheese and crackers, some with less, vieing with each other in making the day a grand success, and all in all a spectacle seldom seen this side of this vale of tears. The program as mapped out by the committee was the best yet seen and the speakers for the occasion men of reputation.

The event at 10 a. m., a game between the machinists and the glass-blowers resulted in favor of the latter by a score of 9 to 3.

The 50-yard dash for girls at 11:30 was won by Miss May Mander, with Miss Leola Cockrell second.

At 1 p. m., the 100-yard dash open to all, was won by Edwin Hayden. The 50-yard dash was won by Kemp Cockrell.

At 1:30 p. m., the sack race was won by Leo Deeton.

At 2 p. m., the baseball game was won by the Cardinals by a score of 16 to 2. Many sensational plays were made.

Catching the greased pig was another feature and was won after a nearby chase by Melvin Jones.

After intermission, after waiting for the Hon. Carter Glass, who notified the committee that he would be unable to be present, Mr. J. W. Collins introduced Hon. J. Fred Birrell, the newly-elected member of the Virginia Legislature.

Mr. Collins in a few appropriate remarks, outlined the interests of the Trades Council and all it represents. Mr. Collins is president of the Trades Council.

Mr. Birrell in his introductory remarks asked the audience for close attention. He started his speech with a story dated back in early history; it was historical as well as pointed. He spoke of the sympathy of his audience and said it was like an icicle on a summer's day and had as little sympathy for labor as it had for the speaker, all they seemed to want was to dance and make merry. He then spoke in a commendable manner of labor. He recounted the troubles through which it had passed, spoke of present troubles, and pictured the future with all the roses that he could strew upon its path. He proved conclusively by his remarks that he was master of his subjects. "Pen could not picture nor mind embrace the great problems of labor as they trouble the commercial seas." He said that it was the laxity of men who should be leaders that holds labor back. He recounted the difference between capital and labor, and said that capital was on the alert and labor was like Micawber in Dickens' works, waiting for something to turn up. He then attacked such of the laboring classes for not being qualified voters. He asked what they expected of other people when they did not qualify themselves to protect labor. He insisted that the man who labors should be a part and parcel of our government, both city, state and national, and if he is not he is no good, and all that he says or does is "boast." He frowned upon the hypocrite in labor, and said that he required his men to do the work of labor and he paid with his audience to be up and doing. He spoke of the right of the working men to name a man to represent them, but they could not do it without qualifying themselves as citizens. The speaker, proceeded, in favorable criticism of labor and asked the leaders to see to it that every friend of labor was armed with the ballot, so that when the time arrived they would be able to cope with the leaders of finance.

Mr. H. T. Colvin was then introduced, and he spoke in the interests of organized labor, and agreed with Mr. Birrell that if labor expected to gain anything it would be through the ballot box. He said that unless the trade unionists paid more attention to their interests and less to other matters, labor would be always in a sad plight.

The first event after the speaking was the married women's race which was won by Mrs. Anna Smith.

Then dancing was indulged in by young and old who entered into the occasion with the vim of extreme youth, and those who failed to enjoy themselves were alone to blame.

To add to the interest, a number of speed boats loaned their presence to the occasion, and the Dyke proper was speckled with handsome crafts.

At the close of the evening, when those who had been present all day were getting tired, the greasy pole was placed in position and several began to climb. After several ineffectual attempts to reach the top and secure the prize the contestants at dark were still struggling.

The fat men's race was not run because the crowd was made up principally of lack and lean individuals.

The beautiful lights reflected from the crafts anchored in the stream and casting their mellow beauty from the windows of the different bungalows was another feature of the occasion which paid a compliment to labor.

The service of the Washington Utilities Company was almost perfect, and few complaints were heard.

The Dyke never appeared to better advantage an there have been few occasions the equal of yesterday. Everybody seemed happy and all arrived home safe.

The music by the Alexandria Band was up to the minute and the dancers enjoyed every minute of the time.

KILLED IN LOVERS' LANE.

Man Shot Down While Walking With Young Woman.

Gloucester, N. J., Sept. 2.—John McAleese, aged 24, who was shot by a highwayman in this city Sunday night, died at 7 o'clock this morning. In company with Miss Ruth Pursgrove, McAleese was walking along a section of Market street known as Lovers' Lane, about 11 o'clock, when a tall masked man stepped up to them and demanded: "Money or your life." McAleese refused and turned with the girl to retreat their steps. The highwayman shouted: "If you haven't any money take that," and fired one shot which entered McAleese's breast.

A score of people quickly rushed to the scene and while they saw the murderer disappear into the brush, he has not yet been apprehended. The girl became unconscious and is unable to talk. Detectives are inclined to think the act was prompted by jealousy.

McAleese was manager of the Oriental Baseball Club, of this city, and known throughout South Jersey in baseball and athletic circles.

NEW CURE FOR RABIES

Quinine Injected Under the Skin Saves Patient's Life.

St. Louis, Sept. 2.—Charles Beardsley, a patient at the City Hospital, suffering from a disease diagnosed as rabies, has been cured by the injection of quinine under the skin. Dr. Downey L. Harris, city bacteriologist, today gave out details of the treatment.

When the patient entered the hospital he seemed to be on the verge of convulsions that mark the final stage of the disease. Dr. Harris gave him a modification of a quinine treatment that a Chicago physician had used in treating dogs afflicted with rabies. Fifteen grains of quinine were injected under Beardsley's skin. Favorable symptoms followed, and another injection was given. Since then the patient has been given two injections a day. Dr. Harris believes that the quinine tends to throw off the germs organisms in the body.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK THIS MORNING

Bodies of Twenty Persons Removed From The Debris.

FORTY ARE INJURED.

Rear End-Collision — Fireman and
Engineer Leap For Their Lives—
Fog Cause of Accident.

New Haven, Sept. 2.—From great piles of twisted and broken steel and splintered wood, a score of physicians and a relief crew of a hundred men have removed the bodies of twenty persons killed in the most fearful wreck the New Haven road has ever had, early today. Forty persons are known to have been seriously injured, while scores of others are suffering minor injuries. It is feared that there are more bodies in the debris strewn over the tracks.

The White Mountain express was speeding along a few minutes behind the fast Bar Harbor express, in an attempt to make up time, it is said, when the rear end of the first train dived up in the dense fog. The engineer reversed his engine, and the fireman, leaped from the cab.

The locomotive crashed into the old Pullman wood coaches of the train ahead and plowed its way completely through four of them. The fifth was practically thrown upon end.

Every one of the eleven Pullman cars on the Bar Harbor train was wooden. All were packed with passengers, and most of them were damaged.

Thundering in the wake of the Bar Harbor express, all the way from New York, was the White Mountain train, itself heavy and also jammed with persons who had been spending their holidays in the New England mountains.

The White Mountain train was an hour late and it is believed for this reason was making up lost time.

According to the best estimates, the White Mountain express was running at least forty-five miles an hour. The big locomotive crashed through the antiquated wooden Pullmans in the rear of the Bar Harbor train like a snow plow sweeping through a drift. Practically nothing of these four cars was left on the track. Crashing on, the locomotive up-ended the fifth car and when the train came to a stop this coach was standing on end with the locomotive acting as a prop.

Albert Miller, the engineer of the White Mountain train, and his fireman, whose name is Robertson, had seen the train ahead too late to avoid the crash, but had time to save themselves by leaping. Miller reversed his engine before he jumped.

The shock of the impact threw from their beds all those in the cars that were not smashed in the collision. When the two trains stopped after the wreck, passengers rushed from all of the remaining cars. Men, women and children appeared in all manner of scanty attire.

L. H. Fowler, conductor of the White Mountain express, said that he could not account for the accident, except that the fog and the mist might have hidden the signals.

The fields around the wreck were filled with debris. Mattresses and bed clothing hung from the telegraph wires, where they had been flung by the force of the collision. The two cars that bore the brunt of the shock had been splintered as if they were packing boxes.

As soon as a rescuing force could be organized attention was directed to those who were most seriously injured and hurry calls for aid were sent to all nearby towns.

From the car sheets and mattresses were brought, wounds were tied up and the injured were made as comfortable as possible.

Ten Killed by Automobiles.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Ten known dead and 28 injured was the automobile toll leveled Labor Day in the United States.

Oyster season now open at Rammel Cafe.

OTHER WRECKS ON SAME ROAD.

Forty-eight Persons Killed on N. Y., N. H. & Hartford R. R. in Two Years.

The following wrecks have occurred on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad within the last two years in which forty-eight persons were killed and hundreds injured.

June 8, 1911, Fairfield, Conn., freight, four killed; signals were disregarded.

July 12, 1911, Bridgeport, Conn., Federal express, twelve killed, 100 injured; due to the carelessness of the engineer in taking a cross-over at a high rate of speed.

August 28, 1911, Middletown, Conn., passenger train, sixty injured; rails spread.

October 15, 1911, Berlin Junction, Conn., passenger train, two dead, five injured; due to runaway freight cars crashing into rear end of train.

June 11, 1912, Clinton, Mass., passenger train, eight injured; ran into an open switch at high speed.

July 25, 1912, Stonington Junction, Conn., passenger train, three killed, four injured; collision due to defective signals.

August 8, 1912, Dorchester, Mass., five killed, sixteen injured; passenger train jumped track.

August 9, 1912, South Boston, Mass., passenger train, seven dead, forty injured; derailed.

October 3, 1912, Westport, Conn., Springfield express, nine killed, fifty injured; due to taking cross-over at a high rate of speed.

November 16, 1912, Green's Farms, Conn., Merchants' Limited, thirty-five injured; due to defective equipment.

November 17, 1912, Putnam, Conn., freight train, one killed, two injured; rear-end collision.

February 22, 1913, Waterbury, Conn., passenger train, twenty-one injured; rear-end collision in fog.

June 12, 1913, Stamford, Conn., Boston express by way of Springfield, five killed and about a score injured; collision caused by ignoring signals and failure of air brakes' work.

AFTER NIGHT PROWLERS.

Police Allege Their Movements Are Watched by Certain Street Loiterers.

Officer Kerns last night arrested a man named James Elliott upon the charge of acting suspiciously on the streets about 1 o'clock this morning. Elliott was taken to the station house where he left $10 collateral for his appearance in the Police Court this morning.

When the case was called Officers Kerns and Ferguson testified that Elliott is one of a gang who prowls the streets throughout most of the night and loiter about corners, evidently for the purpose of giving alarm should the officers prepare to make descents upon certain questionable gatherings where it is believed gambling or other unlawful acts are being committed.

Chief Goods and others of the Police department made similar statements.

When Officer Kerns approached Elliott this morning he had taken a position on a King St. corner and when he was questioned by the officer he treated him with contempt by refusing to answer his questions. He was accordingly taken in custody.

Elliott asked that the case be continued in order that he might procure counsel. He said he desired to secure the services of L. H. Machen, who is out of the city, but is expected here tomorrow. The case was accordingly continued until Thursday morning.

New Court For Divorce Cases.

Detroit, Sept. 2.—A domestic relations court, with absolute jurisdiction in all local divorce cases and with the full powers of a circuit court, today came into existence in Detroit. It is said to be the only court of its kind in the world.

Judge Arthur J. Lacy, who will preside, said today that the creation of the new court places Detroit and Wayne county far in advance of any other city or county in the Union in the matter of solving vital social problems.

Judge Lacy's court was created by special enactment of the last Michigan legislature, and Lacy is an appointee of Governor Parrie. The court is empowered to appoint its own salaried special investigators, who will conduct independent inquiries into the merits of each case before the court.

Oyster season now open at Rammel Cafe.

ELKS GATHER IN RICHMOND

Delegates From All Sections of the State Are Welcomed.

BUSINESS SESSION

Alexandrians Reach Capital City
Last Night—Enjoyable Experience
Assured All.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2.—Bringing news of the preparations of the first big delegation of Elks to arrive for the two day's reunion of Elks of Virginia, State Treasurer John W. Bliley, former resident of this city, and district deputy of the Elks of Eastern Virginia, has reached Richmond from Norfolk. Mr. Bliley came ahead of the Norfolk Elks, who will arrive in a special Pullman at 6:30 tonight, to attend the convention of the B. P. O. Elks Reunion Association of Virginia, which will be the guests today and Wednesday of Richmond Lodge No. 45.

The Norfolk delegation, which will be one of the largest single group to come to Richmond for the festivities that are a part of the reunion, is headed by Jack O'Connell, popular, ruddy cheeked and jovial, and a past district deputy of the Eastern division of Virginia Elksdom. The Norfolk Elks will be more than a hundred strong and the special car, which has been chartered for their trip will be a part of the evening's Cannon Ball.

Richmond Elks headed by Past President Max F. Lindner, of the Virginia Association, chairman of the reception committee, and Joseph Kass, chairman of the entertainment committee, will meet the incoming Elks at Byrd street, Station. The Norfolk Elks who last year entertained the Association, will be escorted to the home of Richmond lodge, and the entertainment that will follow will be a forerunner of the jollities of the two days of the reunion.

Following the arrival of the Norfolk delegation will come the Elks from other cities in the state, and today and Wednesday, when the registration of visitors is begun, a majority of the 1,500 expected will have arrived.

Aside from the jollification, which will be a big part of the reunion, there will be interesting features. Among them will be the ritualistic contest for the loving cup held by the team of Richmond Lodge, the presentation of jewels and a silver piece, and the selection of officers and next convention city.

The contest for the cup for the best exemplification of the ritual of the order, which was captured by local Elks at Norfolk last year and which must be won for three successive years before it passes into the permanent possession of any lodge, will be one in which Richmond's officers will put in a strong claim.

During the session of the convention, a jewel will be presented to the state secretary, W. Clifford Godsey of Petersburg, who has held the office since the organization of the reunion association seven years ago.

Another presentation to be made by the association will be of a handsome piece of silver to President Max F. Lindner, member of Richmond lodge. These presentations will be as marks of appreciation of faithful services given the association by these efficient officers.

The business to come before the association will be transacted at sessions to be held this morning, beginning at 11:30 o'clock, and Wednesday morning beginning at 10 o'clock. During these periods will be the heartiness of the reports of the officers, the committees, the election of officers and choosing of next convention seat.

First on the program after registration, when the visitors have been gathered in the lodge room at the home at Eleventh and Marshall Sts., will be the introduction by Exalted Ruler Eugene Brauer, greeting by Mayor George Ainslie, and the welcoming address by former Governor Andrew J. Montague.

The seventh annual reunion of the Elks of Virginia will then be in full

PARIS WAR ON GRAFT.

Will Hold All Ranks of the Service For Outrages Exposed.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The police scandal that was recently sprung upon Paris has resulted in the suspension of eight officers pending the results of an administrative inquiry and the loss of seniority by the superintendent in whose district the graft occurred.

The police of the French capital, as a whole, are regarded as an honest and conscientious force, and the revelations of the extraordinary reign of terror which had prevailed for more than a year in the section of the Latin Quarter has amazed Parisians.

The newspapers publish stories showing that some of the guilty officers systematically blackmailed innocent persons, demanded huge money in order to suppress trumped-up charges, and where the victims were unable to satisfy their greed, obtained convictions on false evidence. It is even alleged that the disgraced private vengeance by arresting blameless persons in return for money.

WIRES CAUSE FIRE.

An alarm of fire at 10 o'clock this morning brought out the hose wagon of the Columbia steam fire engine company when it was found a telephone pole on Alfred street, near Duke, was burning, it having caught from contact with a tree next to the pole which was set afire by electric light wires running through the branches. The fire was quickly extinguished with chemicals.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

One new member was elected by R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans at their meeting last night. The following delegates were elected to represent the camp at the meeting of the Grand Camp in Roanoke September 17, 18 and 19. F. J. Davidson, James B. Spicer and Booker C. Hall.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.

John H. Howard, Confederate veteran, aged 75, died this morning at 8:20 o'clock at his residence on Seminary Hill. He is survived by his wife and three children, A. Clarence Howard, John R. Howard, and a daughter, Mrs. V. C. Donaldson. The funeral will be held at 2:30 P. M. tomorrow, from the home.

WESTMINSTER HALL.

Westminster Hall is very popular and offers many attractions to the young men of Alexandria since the completion of the bowling alleys and the installation of apparatus in the gymnasium. Each evening from 8 to 10 there is an attendance of young men at the hall. With the approach of cooler weather, larger numbers are expected to attend and enjoy the facilities offered to young men. Bowling is engaged in each evening.

The following delegates from Alexandria Lodge No. 758, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, left yesterday afternoon for Richmond to attend the convention: James W. Bales, exalted ruler; Robert S. Barrett, past exalted ruler; James B. Martin, esteemed loyal knight; Rev. Edgar Carpenter, state chaplain; J. Owen Lynch and J. N. Walker.

RECENT DROUGHT IN THE WEST

Bumper Wheat and Potato
Yield Indicated Notwithstanding.

FORMER GOOD CROPS.

Farmers in Such Financial Condition
That Losses Will Not Prove Serious to Them.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 2.—Kansas has just passed through the most remarkable drought in its history.

But the drought came at a time when it could not hurt the state to a great extent as it followed in the wake of several years of unusual crops, and the farmers, who must suffer drought more than any one else, were in such financial condition that the losses in crops will not make serious inroads in to their bank deposits.

There is no question of the seriousness of the drought, but it affected nearly all of Nebraska and Oklahoma and all parts of Missouri in the same way it hit Kansas. The most serious phase of the dry weather was the lack of water for stock purposes and the personal discomfort incident to extreme heat and a lack of water for domestic use.

Western Kansas suffered even less from the stock water problem than did the central part of the state, or even the eastern third. For years the state has been encouraging the building of ponds in Western Kansas to store the surplus snow and rain water that comes in the spring and winter months.

More than 100 ponds have been reported to the State fire marshal in the last six weeks as caused by the burning rays of the sun. The sun shining on a piece of bright steel wire, of a pitchfork sticking in the side of a hay or wheat stack on a piece of round glass or broken bottle or from highly polished pieces of farm machinery left standing in the sun, all set fire to prairies, stubbles, fields and hay and wheat stacks.

The heat begun May 29, and continued with more or less regularity until August 17, when rains came and stopped the heat for a time. For eighty days there was less than five inches of rain in the State, the lowest amount in any similar period ever recorded. The temperatures were not always 100 degrees, and no heat records were broken except at night.

JUDGE APPROVES VERDICT.

Court Enters Judgment for $25,000 Against Norfolk and Western Railway Company.

Tazewell, Va., Sept. 2.—It has just been learned here that the verdict of the jury in favor of the widow of W. T. Holbrook, a Norfolk and Western bridge carpenter, who was killed by a passenger train on a bridge in West Virginia on January 4 last, has been approved by Judge Henry C. McDowell, of the United States District Court.

This suit was instituted in the Federal court at Roanoke by the widow and administratrix of Holbrook, through her counsel, William H. Werth, of the Tazewell bar, under the federal employers' liability act against the Norfolk and Western Ry., the railroad being represented by McCormick and Smith of the Roanoke bar. The case was tried at the June term of the United States Court at Roanoke, and at the end of the trial the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $25,000, which is said to be the largest verdict ever given in this state in such a case. Counsel for the railroad moved the court to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial, and also, in the event this was refused, to reduce the amount of the verdict on the ground that it was too large. On August 30 Judge McDowell entered an order in the case overruling both motions and entering the judgment of the court in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount of the verdict.

POLICE COURT.
(Justice L. H. Thompson, Presiding.)
The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Albert Pinkney, colored, charged with assaulting his wife, was dismissed.

Mike Cronin, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

D. P. Corbett, charged with obtaining $25 from C. S. Cobb under false pretenses, had his case continued.

A white man charged with assaulting a boy, was dismissed.

Alexandria Industries to Start Up Again Within the Next Few Days.

The summer intermission in the manufacture of glass in Alexandria, is about over, and during the next few days these important adjuncts to the manufacturing of Alexandria will again be in full bloom.

The Old Dominion Works resumed operations today with prospects of a good season.

The Alexandria Glass Works will start up again next Monday under a new management. There is every reason to believe that this plant has a prosperous future before it.

The Virginia Glass Works, the oldest Alexandria enterprise in this line, situated in West End, will resume operations on the 15th instant. Everything points to a favorable season at this plant.

Heretofore the glass works in Alexandria have resumed operations the day after Labor Day. In the case of two of these enterprises the date of resumption has, for good reasons, been deferred a few days.

CASE CONTINUED.
Gave Check on Leesburg Bank But Had No Account in Institution.

Officer Ferguson yesterday arrested a man named D. P. Corbett, at the instance of C. S. Cobb, upon the charge of obtaining $25 from the latter upon a worthless check.

The check was drawn upon a Leesburg bank, which the complainant cashed. Corbett later went to Washington and in the meantime the check was returned, with the statement that Corbett's account had been closed.

Cobb in his statement before the Police Court this morning stated that on a previous occasion he had cashed a check for the accused and that the check had been honored.

Corbett in his defense stated that he had no intention of fraud, but supposed he had money in the Leesburg bank. It was determined to continue the case until Thursday Corbett promising in the meantime to raise the money and reimburse Cobb, in which event the complainant will withdraw the charge.

ISSUING SCHOOL PERMITS.

Clerk of School Board and Assistants Will be at Armory Hall Tomorrow and Thursday.

The work of issuing permits to children to enter the public schools was resumed at Armory Hall this morning. The clerk and his assistants will issue permits to white children tomorrow and to colored applicants Thursday.

According to the ruling of the board, people residing in Fairfax and Alexandria (counties adjoining Alexandria) are required to own property in this city and in addition to be engaged in business pursuits here requiring a license.

Six hundred and fifty-two permits have been issued to boys and six eighty-six to girls.

End of Elopement of Hattie, more Couble to Alexandria

It developed yesterday that Franklin W. Baker, 18 years old, 2323 Greenmount Avenue, Baltimore, who died Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital, following an operation performed on Thursday for intestinal trouble, was married on August 15 to Miss Naomi E. Townsend, in Alexandria, Va.

The young couple eloped to the Virginia town, were married at a Methodist Episcopal parsonage and returned to Baltimore the same day. They agreed not to tell of the wedding until Saturday, August 30. When that day arrived the youthful husband was dead, but it is said that when he realized that his end was near he told his family of his wedding.

Upon their return from Alexandria both went to their homes—Baker to that of his parents and his wife to Adelaide Hall, on Greenmount Ave., near 25th street.

Young Baker was taken ill early last week. At first his condition was not regarded as serious, but on Thursday he was taken to St. Joseph's and an operation was performed, but it failed to save his life. His funeral will take place today at 8:30 a. m.—Baltimore Sun.

PRIZES DISTRIBUTED.

Successful Children in Fly Swatting Crusade.

Cash prizes were distributed today to the following children who were the winning contestants in the August fly swatting crusade conducted by the city health department:

Naomi Massey, first prize; Isabella Cockrell, second prize; and Alton Dodd, third prize. The contestants brought in the following number of flies during August:

Naomi Massey, 110,600; Isabella Cockrell, 42,400; Alton Dodd, 38,400.

The month of July showed the largest record of flies swatted by the children, with over a million flies to the credit of the swatters. June comes a close second, the record of the city health department indicating that that month was not far behind July in the number of flies killed.

The total cost of the fly crusade including all incidental expenses in addition to the cash prizes awarded the children each month, was nearly $90.

HUNTERS FINED.

Greeks Made to Pay $42.70 Fines and Costs, For Illegal Gunning.

Game Warden A. J. Payne, of Fairfax county, conducted John Fleggas, George Fleggas, George Papas and Hely Calamas, Greeks, engaged in business in Washington, before a justice of the peace at New Alexandria this morning to answer the charge of unlawful gaming. They were charged with killing partridges on Sunday without the permission of the owner of the land upon which they found the birds, also with shooting mocking birds, blue birds, etc.

The accused were fined $5 each and costs—amounting in all to $42.70. The assessment was paid.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

WILL STAY IN VIRGINIA.

Elks Home Will Not be Removed to Bedford, Ind.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 2.—Elks throughout Virginia and especially in this part of the state are overjoyed at the announcement that it has been decided to rebuild the Elks' National Home at or near the site of the present home near Bedford City. This information was officially received yesterday by Fred Harper, who for several years has led the fight to retain the home in this state, the information coming from Chairman August Herman, of the commission to rebuild the home, to the effect that the commission by a vote of 8 to 3, rejected the offer to move to Bedford, Ind., and instructed that the present home at Bedford City be delivered to the contractors on October 14 for rebuilding.

"It is understood that seven out of 11 trustees of the commission named by the Elks' Grand Lodge to rebuild the institution voted for the present site, instead of moving the home to Bedford, Ind., where a large farm was offered for this use. It is expected that the actual work will be under way in a short time and during the time the home is under construction the present inmates will be paid a dollar per diem for their support at such places as they may select.

The new home is to be constructed after the cottage plan, the estimated cost being $260,000. The contract has already been awarded to a Salt Lake City contracting concern, which has been ready to begin work for some time. The savings of the home for Bedford City came after a fight covering a period of some years, during which time the Virginia delegation at five or six meetings of the Grand Lodge made hard fights to prevent removal of the institution, probably the most prominent Virginia Elks in this effort being Fred Harper, of this city, son-in-law of the late Senator John W. Daniel.

Matches Save Life of Man.

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 2.—An insignificant looking box of wax matches in the pocket of David Young, a farm laborer, undoubtedly saved his life after he had been struck by a fast express train on the Canadian Pacific railway about three miles west of Chatham.

When struck he was hurled into the ditch, his right arm was shattered, his right leg broken in two places and his head and shoulders badly bruised. He managed to get the box of matches from his pocket, and by use of them was able to attract the attention of the engine crew of a freight train that came up about an hour after the accident.

Young was brought to Chatham and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. He is expected to recover.

Ten Are Killed by Wreck.

ATTACKS SUFFRAGETTES.

Alabama Congressman Denounces Activity in Politics on the Part of Women.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 2.—Representative J. Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, in a Labor Day speech here yesterday attacked woman suffrage as a danger to the American home and to the American Republic.

"What thoughtful man or woman would have the American woman exchanging the robe of gentleness and modesty and refinement for the garments of boldness and officious parade?" asked Heflin.

"Who would change her from the sweetheart, wife and mother, with the halo of feminine sweetness encircling her brow with the center of gravity on the home side of her nature, into a political being to do with the fret and the fever, the turmoil and strife of politics?"

"This woman suffrage movement is the greatest peril now threatening the English speaking people. In the name of the American home in the name of generations yet unborn, in the name of the gentle home-loving women of America, I call upon you to fight this dangerous, deadly movement and save the life of the nation from the dangers that threaten it.

"Upon the home-loving, man-trusting, consecrated Christian women of the United States rests the safety of our institutions and the perpetuity of this Republic."

For the first time in the history of the Georgia prison commission, a large number of well-known white women have recommended executive clemency for a negro charged with an offense against a white woman. Lige Lane was convicted in Clinch county for assault. He was sentenced to hang, and unless the governor interferes, will be executed on September 10. A letter written by the negro's victim, which also requests clemency, was submitted.

BANK MAY BE REORGANIZED.

Widespread Sympathy Expressed for Commonwealth Institution.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2.—It was reported yesterday afternoon that a movement is under way having for its object the re-organization and continuance in business of the Commonwealth Bank. That such a step is contemplated there seems no doubt, but whether it is realized only time can tell.

The forcing out of business of the Commonwealth has aroused widespread sympathy.

In a sense it has been the "small man's bank," dependent largely on modest individual deposits and loaning its funds chiefly to small borrowers.

The statement of State Bank Examiner Barksdale that he was convinced that the bank would pay depositors dollar for dollar, and the expressed opinion of Receivers James W. Gordon and John B. Lightfoot to the same effect is regarded by many as indicative of the bank's bona fides and its essential soundness under ordinary conditions which ordinarily conditions did not obtain at the time larger banks demanded and insisted on repayment of loans within a period of time impossible of discharge under existing monetary conditions.

Nowhere is the suspension of the Commonwealth regarded as a bank failure in the public's interpretation; it is regarded rather as the liquidation of an institution, under temporarily embarrassed circumstances, which circumstances might have been met had there been displayed a more friendly attitude on the part of other banks.

William J. Fisher, the self-confessed slayer of William L. Aldorfer, who was stabbed to death shortly before midnight Friday at his home on Elm street, Chevy Chase, Montgomery county, Md., will be arraigned today. Since the occurrence of the tragedy Fisher has stoutly maintained that he merely struck in self-defense and has depended upon the members of the Aldorfer household and the neighbors to sustain his contention. When he is brought before the bar, however, he will find at least one of these witnesses on whom he has counted who will not fully substantiate his testimony. State's Attorney Spates says he is satisfied he will be amply able to present sufficient facts to establish the pria facie case which the law requires to hold a prisoner for the action of the grand jury.

POTOMAC OYSTERS
ALL RIGHT.

It is encouraging to note from the Virginia Citizen, owned and edited by Commodore McDonald Lee, chairman of the State Fisheries Commission, appointed to investigate the bivalve in those waters, will fully vindicate the Potomac river oyster. Some months ago, it will be recalled a member of the chemistry bureau of the agricultural department at Washington, made a public deliverance, based upon what is charged to have been only a superficial examination, in which the healthfulness of the Potomac river beds was seriously questioned. Desirous, on the one hand, of protecting the public health, should the report be correct, and, on the other hand, of preventing damage to a large industry, should it be incorrect, Governor Mann proposed a thorough investigation by experts representing Virginia, Maryland and the United States government. The proposal was accepted by Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland, and a commission was appointed whose composition consisted of one bacteriologist and one chemist from each State and two officials of the United States department of agriculture.

Three times, says the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, this commission has gone over the Potomac river beds, a great deal of laboratory work has been done and many samples examined. While the text of its report is not yet available, and will not be until it shall have been submitted to the governors of Maryland and Virginia, the findings, it is said, have been gauded upon and constitute a complete vindication. The report, it is understood, will among other things recommend a line across the river above which no oysters may be taken, and that no oysters be planted near the mouth of certain creeks.

This vindication, proceeding from the source which it does, ought, when officially given out, to put an end to the agitation which has already done a great deal of uncalculated damage to the oyster industry on the Potomac. That the public health is entitled to and should receive first consideration goes without saying. But no less true is it that food faddists should be absolutely certain that they know whereof they speak before giving publicity to charges calculated to destroy the livelihood of thousands of people.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN RENOUNCES WORK.

One of the Richmond papers of yesterday contained the following:
Dick Ragland, of Halifax county, a Confederate veteran, was in Richmond Saturday, and, as usual upon his visits to this city he went to the office of the State Auditor of Public Accounts to pay his respects to Auditor Moore and incidentally to emphasize his present address on the eye of mailing out the pension checks, one of which will be mailed to him.

It is alleged that Dick made a solemn vow when the Confederate flag was furled at Appomattox that he would never do a day's work from that historical epoch and the shores of time. It is also alleged that Dick has faithfully kept that vow, and that his nomadic wanderings include every section of this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific, never losing an opportunity to unfold his tale of woe of the privations he endured through four years of the great civil war, in which he alleges his bosom was barred to the enemy's steel and leaden hail for a principle he not only believed to be right, but was right.
It is said that Dick narrowly escaped being ground to death beneath the wheels of a train at Danville while riding the "blind baggage," but when the train was stopped for the purpose of gathering up his mangled remains the ex-Confederate crawled from beneath the train unscathed, having hugged the road-bed so closely that he escaped the horrible death to which he had been exposed.

On several occasions during the past two score or more of years men have appeared with hair and locks as elongated as those of Rip Van Winkle, who had made vows not to submit to capillary abridgment, until the Southern Confederacy should be recognized. Such individuals were at first regarded with sympathy, but more interesting and pathetic pictures absorb the attention of another generation, and the man who refuses to work because he was a Confederate soldier is not calculated to appeal to many in this busy age.

Early in 1895, when the survivors of Colonel Mosby's command held their reunion in Potomac lodge rooms in Alexandria the Gazette in describing the scenes incident to that interesting gathering, called attention to the fact that during the civil war members of this gallant band were pictured by northern writers and illustrators on a par with the Forty Thieves. They were represented as being attired in Dick Turpin apparel, playing cards around a camp fire, with a decapitated dead federal soldier lying close by with a bayonet stuck deep into his breast. The gathering in Alexandria, in contrast to such libels, was composed of thrifty farmers, merchants and preachers, men who stood in the front ranks of the nation who had the industry and talents for successful business pursuits.

They had not renounced honest labor when compelled to lay down their arms in defense of their principles, and there is no good reason why any other man who followed the fortunes of the Lost Cause should become an itinerant and a straggler in the march of life.

POLICEMAN PUT IN CELL.

New York Patrolman Accused of Being a Highwayman.

New York, Sept. 2.—Accused of being a highwayman, Patrolman Jas. F. Brady, of the East 51st street station, was stripped of his shield, club and gun, and put in a cell in his own station yesterday afternoon.

The arrest was made under dramatic circumstances by James F. Dillon, fourth deputy police commissioner, who for many hours had investigated an amazing charge made against Brady by John Robinson, a bartender, of 49 Prospect Place.

Robinson said Brady told him there was trouble in a hallway at 250 East 43rd street, between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning and sought his help. Robinson went into the hallway and says Brady attacked and robbed him there.

The Deputy Commissioner learned Brady had an excellent record and is known as a man who never drinks to excess. Policeman Brady has been with the department only fourteen months. He is 35 years old.

MILITANTS MAUL PREMIER.

Attack Asquith as He Sits in Church. And Breaks up Service.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Sept. 2.—Miss Winnie Wallace and Miss Flora Smith, the two young militant suffragettes, who assaulted Premier Asquith on the golf links at Elgin last Thursday, attacked the Premier in a church at Elgin during the services Sunday, according to word received here yesterday afternoon.

The two girls were out on bail, having been held for trial for attacking Mr. Asquith last week. During services the girls entered the church as though they were belated worshippers, and then, with shouts of rage, hurled themselves upon the Premier.

Bakes Bread To Perfection
 Bakes it light and crisp—in a slow, steady oven—and a cool, comfortable kitchen.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove
 Smokeless Odorless

Bakes, broils, roasts and toasts.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is cleaner than a coal or wood range. Cheaper than gas. Cooks everything as well as either. Burns kerosene, the cleanest, handiest fuel. No coal or ashes to carry. No soot. No smoke. No dust.

The new 4-burner Perfection Stove cooks a whole meal at once with the least expense, trouble and discomfort. Indicator shows just how much oil is in font. Smaller stoves with 1, 2 or 3 burners. Ask your dealer to show you a New Perfection with patent broiler and other accessories, or write for descriptive circular to:

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriola, Pa., that is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. It is one of the most successful preparations that has been discovered. Thousands have testified to its value. For sale by all dealers.

SOME DON'TS For Stomach and Liver Sufferers

Don't take medicine for your Stomach ailments morning, noon and night, as usually such medicines only give temporary relief and simply digest the food that happens to be in the stomach. Don't permit a surgical operation. There is always serious danger in operations and in many cases of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments the knife can be avoided if the right remedy is taken in time.
 Don't go around with a foul smelling breath caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver, to the discomfort of those you come in contact with. If you are a Stomach sufferer don't think you cannot be helped, probably worse cases than yours have been restored by May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy.
 Most stomach ailments are mainly caused by a natural condition. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy not only removes the catarrhal mucous, but allays the chronic inflammation and assists in rendering the entire alimentary and intestinal tract antiseptic, and this is the secret of its successful success.
 Don't suffer constant pain and agony and ruin your health. No matter how severe your case may be or how long you have suffered from it, May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy will restore you to health. May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy has been taken and is highly recommended by members of Congress, Justices of the Supreme Court, Educators, Lawyers, Merchants, Bankers, Doctors, Druggists, Nurses, Manufacturers, Friends, Ministers, Farmers and people in all walks of life.

Pursuant to the terms of a decree of the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, entered on August 23, 1913, in the chancery cause herein depending of Bessie Lomax and others against Robert Poindeux and others, the undersigned bonded Special Commissioner of sale herein appointed, will offer for sale public auction, for cash, in front of the Royal street entrance to the Market House, in the City of Alexandria, Va., on ATURDAY, SEPT. 13, 1913, at 12 O'clock Noon.
 All of that lot of ground with a two story frame house thereon, located on the west side of Pitt street between Prince and Oronoco streets, in the City of Alexandria, Va., bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a point on the west side of Pitt street 92 feet 7 inches south of Oronoco street and on the south side of an alley 4 feet 7 inches wide, and running thence south on Pitt street 5 feet; thence west parallel with Oronoco street 100 feet to a corner; thence 3 inches wide, thence north or south 15 feet to an alley; and thence east along said alley and parallel with Oronoco street 100 feet to the beginning, with right of way over said alley and court. Conveyance at cost of purchaser.
ROBINSON MONCURE,
 R. B. WASHINGTON,
 Special Commissioners of Sale.

I certify that the bond in the penalty of $600.00 required by the above mentioned decree, of above said commissioners of sale or the one acting has been duly given as required by law by Robinson Moncure, with F. L. Slaymaker as his surety.
NEVELL S. GREENAWAY, Clerk.

BIBLE CLASS IN POLITICS.

Will Try to Defeat Candidate Opposed to Local Option.

Hagerstown, Md., Sept. 2.—The Bible Class of St. Paul's United Brethren Sunday school passed resolutions pledging its members not to vote for those candidates for the House of Delegates who do not "openly and honestly" declare themselves in favor of local option. The members also pledged themselves to use all their powers to defeat the candidates opposed to local option.

The president of the class was appointed to instruct a committee to visit every Bible class in Hagerstown, with the view to getting them to co-operate in the attempt to defeat the candidate opposed to local option.

The secretary of the class was instructed to send a copy of the resolutions to every Sunday school superintendent in Washington county.

About 500 persons are members of the various men's Bible classes of Hagerstown.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea, and other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails, and Despondency.

Is often caused by indigestion and constipation and quickly disappears when Chamberlain's Tablets are taken. For sale by all dealers.

At a Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, continued and held at the Court House of said City on Thursday, the 21st day of August, 1913, Present Hon. Louis C. Barley, Judge.

Abel Douglass,

vs. In Chancery.

Upon the application of the complainant, Abel Douglass, stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, Mary E. Douglass, the Court on the 21st day of August, 1913, doth grant the following order of publication:

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree divorcing the complainant from the defendant, a divorce from bed and board, (a mensa et thoro) on the ground of wilful abandonment and desertion without just cause or excuse on the part of the defendant and to obtain a divorce absolute (a vinculo matrimonii) when the said desertion has continued for a period of more than three years last past, and an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant, Mary E. Douglass, has not been found within the jurisdiction of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that she appear within fifteen days after due publication of said order of publication and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.

And it is further ordered that a copy of said order of publication be published once a week for four successive weeks in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the City of Alexandria, Va., that a copy be posted at the front door of the Court House of said city on or before the 1st day of September, 1913, that the next succeeding rule day after this order is entered, and that a copy of said order of publication shall be sent by registered mail by the Clerk of this Court, addressed to the said non resident defendant at 414 Erie Avenue, Williamsport, Pa., her last known place of abode.

Your Liver Needs a Button

Hot Springs Liver Buttons Unlog It and Make You Feel Fine.

Throw Away Your Calomel.
 From Hot Springs, Ark., the world's greatest health resort, comes the new, perfectly safe remedy, they act directly and positively on the liver, and while sure in results are gentle and pleasant in action.

Don't Let Your Liver Loaf.
 When you feel "all in," lack ambition, have no appetite and "don't care" whether school keeps or not, it's your liver. It is torpid—not doing its duty—and, of course, you are constipated. The bodily waste, loaded with poisons, is being retained in the bowels and partly re-absorbed into the blood. Can you wonder if you feel heavy and listless?

You must get your liver to working order. But do not think that just any handy pill or drug will do. Calomel is dangerous. You know that. Hot Springs Liver Buttons are just what you need to revive your faded appetite and put your liver and bowels in tip-top condition. At druggists' 25c. Sample and 100 of our 17,000 testimonials mailed free by Hot Springs Chemical Co., Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEWS OF THE DAY

One gay canoeing party came to a tragic conclusion yesterday afternoon when John J. Stover, aged 21, of Washington, president of the Epworth League branch of the Douglas Memorial Church, was drowned in the Potomac River about 1 mile below Chain bridge shortly after 3 o'clock. Stover was in swimming at the time, and sank before the eyes of his companions.

An initiation ceremony was conducted on the upper lock of the Panama canal at Miraflores yesterday morning under the auspices of the visiting Shriners of Osman Temple, of St. Paul. It was the most elaborate affair of the kind ever seen on the isthmus. A complete temple sitting was arranged in the lock chambers, and 170 local candidates were made "to cross the burning sands." Following the ceremony a bronze tablet, in commemoration of the event, was placed on the wall.

Dr. E. E. Gordon, a prominent physician of Cairo, Ill., was shot and killed last night by Harvey R. Fields, an insurance solicitor. About ten days ago Gordon operated on Fields' mother. Her subsequent death, the insurance man declared, was caused by the physician's carelessness. It was in return for her life that he took that of the doctor, he said. Immediately after the shooting Fields surrendered himself to the police. He is 25 years old, and has a wife and child. In his cell Fields made the statement that Dr. Gordon, who was the family physician, had attacked the younger Mrs. Fields in his office.

The daring French aviator, Pegoud, who on August 20 made a parachute drop from an aeroplane from a height of 900 feet, accomplished a much more remarkable feat at Juvisy, France, yesterday, which at first sight appears to have been a piece of extraordinary aerial acrobatics, but which experts declare was an epoch-making experiment toward the attainment of safety in the air. Briefly, Pegoud caused his monoplane to describe a gigantic letter S in the sky, during which he was flying upside down for about a quarter of a mile.

Death claimed a heavy toll in the labor day automobile speed races at the State Fair grounds at Nashville, Tenn., yesterday afternoon, when four of the six high-powered cars, entered in the 25 mile free-for-all, were wrecked and rendered into a mass of twisted steel and splintered wood, on the far side of the mile track, opposite the big grand stand, wherein were packed 5,000 people. Four of the dare-devil racers were killed, two received minor injuries, while four escaped without injury of any sort. Two of the cars, with their drivers and mechanics, flashed through the tangled wreckage of broken cars and maimed bodies, at a speed of 60 miles an hour, escaping injury.

The Philadelphia police have a mysterious murder, which they are investigating, and they are still undecided whose body it was which they found at the foot of an air shaft at the New Adelphia Hotel, on Chestnut street. The body was found early yesterday afternoon, with the head crushed in, and the pockets were turned inside out. It was that of a well-groomed man, and has every appearance of that of a man of wealth. There are marks of violence on the corpse, which the coroner's deputies say were received before death, and the police are working on the theory that the man was robbed and the body cast into the shaft where it was found.

Further disorders in connection with the tram strike in Dublin, Ireland, occurred last night. Crowds of strikers and demonstrative youths paraded the streets smashing shop windows and indulging in looting wherever an opportunity was afforded. The police dispersed the rioters with baton charges, and everything was quiet by 11 o'clock. The disorders last night resulted in injury to many persons, 35 of whom were taken to hospitals. There was much looting of confectionery shops, and the windows of many stores in the dark, side streets were smashed by bands of hoodlums.

Four persons were drowned in Adirondack lakes yesterday by the capsizing of canoes.

Mother of Eighteen Children.
"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to and as much as I want and feel better than at any time in years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say. Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by all dealers."

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.
